

THE ARTIST'S EYE

“What happens today is the history of tomorrow,” says Paul Tuller, owner of Barn Door Video Productions in Dublin, NH.

As a lover of stories and oral history, Paul sees the big picture – as well as the crucial details that enhance the telling.

Tuller’s film experience goes back to high school and college days when he studied film history, film production photography, lighting and stage production, computer-aided graphics and sound equipment.

Paul’s work in video takes advantage of his artist’s eye – a cultivated appreciation for and dedication to detail that he cultivated as a fine woodworker in the Japanese style.

Tuller maintains his rigorous standards and attention to detail throughout the entire video production process. “I know how to capture the essential elements of a story and weave them into a unique tapestry.”

THE EYE OF THE BEHOLDER

NO TECHNOLOGY CAN REPLACE AN ARTIST'S EYE.

It is the artist's eye—in combination with technical skill—that determines the impact of your video. It is the eye that shoots the video... the eye that edits, filters and creates effects... the eye that uses technology to shape the vision.

BARN DOOR VIDEO combines original footage with still photographs, archival video, tape recordings and music to create unique and memorable experiences.

CAPTURE THE POWER OF YOUR STORY

People, companies, families, businesses, towns, products all have stories... of their origins, their pasts, their challenges, their dramas, their triumphs.

Video engages our senses and makes impressions stick. The power of your story will be greatest when captured on video.

PROMOTIONAL VIDEOS PAVE THE WAY TO SALES.

Harrisville Designs demonstrates its high-end rug looms in a video that has resulted in many sales.

"Paul Tuller brought his technical abilities and experience and the resulting video hit the perfect balance between Hollywood slick and homemade rough. It instantly became an excellent sales tool. Paul's input was critical to its success."

John Colony, President,
Harrisville Designs.

Capture the best of your marketing presentations on video—the energy, and enthusiasm, the precision, the confidence and the salesmanship that are so difficult to duplicate.

INSTRUCTIONAL VIDEOS PRESENT THE EXPERTS

How better to teach a process than to show it being done by an expert ... putting the paddle into the water, turning the wrist in the "J" stroke, making the next move to keep the stroke smooth.

Watching an expert perform an operation is the ideal way to learn.

BARN DOOR VIDEO will film a lesson with precision and clarity. Use it in-house or on the Internet as an online demonstration of your product.

DOCUMENTARIES AND FAMILY HISTORY VIDEOS PRESERVE PRECIOUS MEMORIES.

Take advantage of opportunities to record special events and special people in our lives. An ear for the story and an eye for detail will capture and preserve these memories as personal treasures.
